

SOCRATES (470-399 B.C.)

1. The only true wisdom is in knowing you know nothing.
2. Know thyself.
3. Wonder is the beginning of wisdom.
4. To find yourself, think for yourself
5. Understanding a question is half an answer.
6. He is the richest who is content with the least, for content is the wealth of nature.
7. An honest man is always a child
8. By all means, marry. If you get a good wife, you'll be happy; if you get a bad one, you'll become a philosopher.
9. I am not an Athenian or a Greek, but a citizen of the world.
10. There is only one good, knowledge, and one evil, ignorance.
11. Strong minds discuss ideas, average minds discuss events, weak minds discuss people.
12. Prefer knowledge to wealth, for the one is transitory, the other perpetual
13. The secret of happiness, you see, is not found in seeking more, but in developing the capacity to enjoy less.
14. Be kind, for everyone you meet is fighting a hard battle.
15. I cannot teach anybody anything. I can only make them think.
16. The secret of change is to focus all of your energy, not on fighting the old, but on building the new.
